4. ASSESSMENT GUIDANCE

Good assessment practice should be used for sessional and final assessments. Such practices by vocational training providers during sessional and final assessments will form the basis of qualifying the trainees.

4.1 Differences between sessional and final assessment

Sessional assessment shall be conducted regularly. Its purpose is to provide feedback on what students are learning:

- To the student: will identify achievement and areas for further teaching and its level.
- To the teacher: will evaluate the effectiveness of teaching, and guide to determine the future plan.

Assessors need to devise sessional assessments for both theoretical and practical work. Guidance is provided in the assessment strategy

Final assessment is the assessment, usually on completion of a course or module, which identifies whether or not the student has “passed”. It is – or should be – undertaken with reference to all the objectives or outcomes of the course, and is usually fairly formal. Considerations of security – ensuring that the student who gets the credit is the person who did the work – assume considerable importance in final assessment.

4.2 Methods of assessment

For lessons with a high quantity of theory, written or oral tests related to learning outcomes and/ or learning content can be conducted.

For workplace lessons, assessment will focus on the quality of planning and executing the related process along with the quality of the product and/or evaluation of the process.

Methods will include direct assessment, as the most desirable form of assessment. For this, evidence shall be obtained by directly the student’s performance.

Examples for direct assessment of skin care treatment will include:

- Work performances, for example face facial without damaging skin
- Demonstrations, for example demonstrating the treatment of skin care and testing of suitable creams according to skin type.
- Direct questioning, where the assessor will ask the student how many types of skin or which type of facial on oily skin will you apply.

- Paper-based tests, such as multiple choice or short answer questions on skincare, hygienic and safety issues, or working with others.

Indirect assessment shall be used where the performance could not be watched and evidence is gained indirectly.

Examples for indirect assessment of a skin care treatment will include:

- Proper treatment of skin: cleansing of skin with suitable creams
- Storage of facial products, the methods adopted to store products.

Indirect assessment should only be a second choice. (In some cases, it may not even be guaranteed that the work products were produced by the person being assessed.)

4.3 Principles of assessment

All assessments should be valid, reliable, fair and flexible:

Fairness means that there should be no advantages or disadvantages for any assessed person. For example, it should not happen that one student gets prior information about the type of work performance that will be assessed, while another candidate does not get any prior information.

Validity means that a valid assessment assesses what it claims to assess. For example, if the ability to apply the treatment of skin care is to be assessed and certified, the assessment should involve performance criteria that are directly related to skin care treatment.

Reliability means that the assessment is consistent. For example, if work performance of applying facial treatment and method adopted to facial assessed, another assessor (e.g., the future employer) should be able to see the same work performance and witness the same level of achievement.

Flexibility means that the assessor has to be flexible concerning the assessment approach. For example, if there is a power failure during the assessment, the assessor should modify the arrangements to accommodate the student's needs.

4.4 Assessment strategy for the skin care curriculum

This curriculum consists of 10 modules:

- Module 1: Manage the Salon Perform Disinfection/Sanitization and Safety in the Salon.
- Module 2: Analyze, Identify and scan different types of skin.

- Module 3: Perform Basic Facial.
- Module 4: Perform Treatment Facial Manual/Machinery (high frequency, galvanic , vacuum, derma-brasion. micro
- Module 5: Selection, Procurement of thread and wax and the competency of skin epilation
- Module 6: Skills and knowledge required for providing nail care
- Module 7: Perform Body massage with different movements.
- Module 8: Communication skills with client, asses , explain, suggest and sell best suitable treatment to client and work as a team.
- Module 9: Develop professionalism.
- Module 10: Develop entrepreneurship

4.5 Suggestion for the sessional assessment

The sessional assessment for all modules shall be in two parts: theoretical assessment and practical assessment. The sessional marks shall contribute to the final qualification.

Theoretical assessment for all learning modules must consist of a written paper lasting at least one hour per module. This can be a combination of multiple choice and short answer questions.

For practical assessment, all procedures and methods for the modules must be assessed on a sessional basis Guidance is provided under the title planning for assessment.

4.6 Suggestion for final assessment

Final assessment shall be in two parts: theoretical assessment and practical assessment. The final assessment marks shall contribute to the final qualification. The final theoretical assessment shall consist of multiple choice and short answer questions, covering all modules. For practical assessment, the method of facial procedure shall be selected to assess the competencies of student expected to be gained after this training course.

It is also proposed that the assessment may take place in such a way that covers each of the modules. Time and markings may be distributed according to the importance of module that is reflected from the time invested during teaching.

The distribution of time and markings for assessment are given below:

Module No.	Distribution of time and marking for assessment
	Total	Out of total hrs/ Marking	Practical
MODULE 1	10%	2%	8%
MODULE 2	10.5%	5%	5.5%
MODULE 3	20.75%	2%	18.75%
MODULE 4	22.5%	3.75%	18.75%
MODULE 5	5%	1%	4%
MODULE 6	5%	1%	4%
MODULE 7	5%	1%	4%
MODULE 8	6%	1.5%	4.5%
MODULE 9	9.5%	1.5%	8%
MODULE 10	5.75%	1.25%	4.5%
Total	100%	20%	80%

4.7 Structure of the assessment team

There must be a maximum of six students per assessor and if there are two assessors then 12 students can be assessed within a day and 24 students in 2 days. The entire course can be tested in the sessional assessments and the percentage of sessional assessments in the final assessment should be increased.

4.8 Planning for assessment

Sessional assessment: assessors need to plan in advance how they will conduct sessional assessments for each module. The tables on the following pages are for assessors to use to insert how many hours of theoretical and practical assessment will be conducted and what the scheduled dates are.

Final assessment: Training providers need to decide ways to combine modules into a cohesive two-day final assessment programme for each group of five students. Training providers must agree the settings for practical assessments in advance.

SPECIFICATION OF LIST AND TOOLS & EQUIPMENT

Galvanic Machine and its Benefits
Positive Pole	Negative Pole
Produces acidic reactions. Soothes nerves. Decreases blood supply. Hardens tissues.	Produces alkaline reaction. Stimulates nerves. Increases blood supply. Softens tissues.
The positive pole may be used: To tighten the pores after finishing a facial. To decrease redness, as in mild acne. To prevent inflammation after comedone and blemish treatment. To force acid pH solutions, such as astringents, in to the skin.	The negative pole may be used: Stimulate the circulation of the blood dry skin. Force alkaline pH solution in to the skin (a process that softens and liquefies grease deposits which are accumulations of sebum in the hair follicles).
How Applied: The effects of the galvanic current are experienced by the patron as the current passes through. Active Electrode: Applied by the beauty therapist, is connected to the particular pole whose action is desired. Inactive Electrode: Is held by the patron and is connected to the other pole. This electrode helps the movement of the current flow in the body.

High-Frequency Machine and its Benefits

With the help of the violet current in the glass electrodes designed for the face. The beauty therapist to obtain sedative, calming or soothing effects with high- frequency current, the general electrification treatment is used, or the electrode is kept in to close contact with the areas treated by the use of direct surface application.

To obtain a stimulating effect, lift the electrode slightly from the area to be treated and apply the current through the cloth or a towel.

Benefits :

Mostly used for Acne skin.

Stimulates circulation of the blood.

Increases glandular activity.

Aids in elimination and absorption.

Increases metabolism.

Germicidal action occurs during use.

Machine Tools:

Facial electrode: Looks like a mushroom, flat for it to move easily over the face and neck.

Metal electrode: For the patron to hold, for current to pass through.

Scalp electrode: Specially designed for the scalp, or hair fall and dandruff treatments. To stimulate the blood flow, for better hair growth.
